

We are delighted to invite you to the 4th edition of the “Immunotherapy for Infectious Diseases” (ITID) Conference, taking place in Bellinzona, Switzerland, from October 1-3, 2025.

 Conference Website

We are proud to host a lineup of high profile, world-renowned scientists with H index above 150, from both academia and industry.

 Conference Program

The conference offers an interdisciplinary forum in an informal setting, promoting interaction and exchange. Colleagues from academia, biotech and pharma will come together to explore the latest advances in immunotherapy.

ITID 2025 will touch on key areas related to immunotherapy:

- Pandemic Preparedness & Global Readiness
Strategies to strengthen worldwide defences and prepare for emerging threats.
- Innate Immunity & Tissue Responses
Insights into tissue T lymphocytes, humoral innate immunity, and mechanisms to harness immune responses for targeted therapies.
- Antibody Discovery, mRNA Vaccines & Therapeutic Innovations
Advances in viral immunogens, therapeutic strategies, and next-generation mRNA vaccines, including novel RNA modalities and delivery systems.
- Organoids – A Window into Human Immunity
Sessions on bronchial and lymphoid organoids, showcasing how these models are transforming research on respiratory infections and pathogen-immune interactions.
- Health Economics & Access Strategy
A special lecture on the challenges to bring new molecules to the patient and having them accepted by the national insurance systems, evaluating medical innovation through Health Technology Assessment (HTA), with strategies to optimize patient access to therapies.

ITID 2025 – Why Attending

- Low cost, all-Inclusive Registration:

It covers all lunches, dinners, coffee breaks, and conference gadgets.

The conference is no-profit, and we strive to keep the costs for participants as low as possible.

Hotel discounts are also available; see website for information.

- Opportunities for Early-Career Researchers:

Grants available for travel and accommodation.

Oral presentations during the conference, selected on submitted abstracts.

 Apply for a Grant

- Intimate & High-Impact Setting: Limited to ~135 in-person participants for meaningful networking and direct interactions with keynote and session speakers.

- Meet the vendors: Roadshow of approx. 25 companies offering samples and discounts for laboratory reagents, instruments and services.

- Hybrid Attendance: Join in person or online; live streaming available.
Group registrations available for online attendance, please send an email for details.

- Early Bird Registration: Discounted rates available for a limited time.

 Register Now

Please share this invitation with interested parties.

Conference Details

Dates: October 1-3, 2025

Location: Bellinzona, Switzerland (Bios+ building)

Website: <https://itidconference.com/>

Follow us on LinkedIn for updates.

We look forward to welcoming you to this vibrant gathering of immunotherapy experts.

Thank you for your attention,
ITID25 Conference Organizers

